Admiral Dewey Has His Marriage License

While Mrs. Hazen is Not Ready Yet to Tell the Hapyy Date - Johnson-Johnson Wedding Today.

The license authorizing Admiral George Dewry to wed Mrs. Mildred M. Hazen was issued today by the clerk of the Supreme Cour. of the District of Columbia, through Assistant Clerk M. A. Clancy. The appli-of years. cation for the license was made by Lieut Harry H. Caldwell, United States navy Admiral Dewey's secretary, in person. The information furnished the clerk, and set forth in the license, is that Admiral Dewey is sixty-one years of age, and his bride elect forty-three; that both are citiz ns of the United States, and that in the case of each party there was one former marriage To these statements Lieut, Caldwell was required to make oath.

Admiral Dewey, with his usual forehandedness, has his marriage license a few days York for Benning: L. V. Bell, Tom Ryan, in advance of the ceremony. When the word got around today that the license had each; Regina stable, 2; Tom Magee, 10; been secured there was a fresh demand on all sides for more news on the subject. A very large part of this most reasonable desire was expressed by inquiries of Mrs. Hazen at her residence and of Admiral Dewey at his home. No information was given out at either of these sources. Mrs. Hazen excused herself to all comers, either reporters or visitors, by the plea of "very busy." The truth is that she has an unu sually large mail just at present and in the interims between her shopping expeditions this morning and the visits of Admiral Dewey, she has given her entire day to it Because Admiral Dewey got the license today does not necessarily indicate that the marriage will take place even this week. The statement is made by one who ought to know that the great event will take place on the 14th or 15th, either next Tuesday or Wednesday, as by that time Mr. John R. McLean and family will be back in Washington. Inasmuch as Cardinal Gibbons will be away for possibly a week longer, it is not thought that he was asked to officiate, but that Archbishop Keane has been the choice of the bride from the start, and the settle ment of the date is entirely conditional upon his early return. That the marriage will take place at Mrs. McLean's residence and that only a family party, with a few intimate friends and, naturally, several high officials, will be the witnesses of it are now foregone conclusions.

Admiral Dewey accompanied Mrs. Hazen Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Ludlow back to this city yesterday. The party arrived at the McLean mansion a short time after the departure from K street of the fire department, and they were able to get into the house without increasing the excitement which had previously enlivened that neighborhood. Friends of Mrs. Hazen say that the interesting interviews of which such copious reports appeared in some of the New York dailies during her stay in the metropolis were not suggested by any material for them furnished by this now much-observed lady. In other words, the delightful talks were pure inventions.

This morning Mrs. Hazen, attired in deep mourning, such as she has worn lately, went out driving with her mother.

Mrs. Don Cameron and her daughter sailed yesterday for Europe.

A handsome reception will be given in Louisville today for the debut of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Tom L. Johnson so well known in this city Miss Mary Halbert Page delightfully entertained a company gathered last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Christy by a vocal recital. She was as-sisted by Mlss Jessie Cowling, violinist, and Miss Jullien as accompanyist. The follow-ing program was rendered, in which the young singer was heard to splendid advantage: "My Heart at Thy Dear Voice." Saint Saens: "Matinata," Tosti; "Ro-manze," Johan Svendsen (violin solo); (a) "When I Behold Thee," Martin, (b)
"Child's Verse," Nevin, "Fruhlings Lied,"
O. Wild (violin obligato): "A Rose Fable," Hawley; "Carmen," Bizet; (a) "Bolero," Carl Bohm, (b) "Berceuse," F. Renard (violin solo); "Dutch Lullaby," R. De Koven; "Good Night, Sweet Dreams,"

Miss Pickett Heth of Virginia, niece of Gov. Tyler, is visiting Miss Wilkinson, 1526 K street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Dairymple and daughter, Miss Mary V., of Capitol Hill, are in Ohio, where they contemplate remaining several weeks.

A pretty home wedding occurred last evening at the residence of the bride, 1119 East Capitol street, when Mrs. Margaret A. McIntosh and Mr. William H. Gillin of Congress Heights were married by Rev. C. T. House of the Twelfth Street M. E. Church. A large number of the friends of the couple were present. The ceremony was followed by a brief time for congratulations and a supper. The bride's gown was of handsome gray cloth trimmed with lace. Some handsome presents were received.

The marriage of Miss Florida H. Johnson, daughter of the late Albanus L. Johnson, to Mr. James C. Johnson of Cambridge, Md., Mr. James C. Johnson of Cambridge, Md., took place at noon today at the residence of an uncle of the bride, Mr. Elbridge S. Johnson, 2515 14th street. The ceremony, which was attended by only a family party and a gathering of intimate friends, was conducted by Rev. Joslah Perry of St. Andrew's Church, and was followed by a breakfast before the couple departed for their honeymoon journey.

No more charming bride has been seen this year, for added to many graces of mind, she possesses an attractive personality. Her tall figure showed off her wedding dress to perfection. It was of white ality. Her tall figure showed on her well ding dress to perfection. It was of white crepe de chene, profusely trimmed with point lace. The guimpe and sleeves were of shirred chiffon, and the lace covered the front of the bodice and skirt. The tulle veil fell back from the fluffy fair hair under a cluster of orange blossoms. Her der a cluster of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of lilles of the valley and white orchids.

Mr. Elbridge Johnson escorted his niece

Mr. Elbridge Johnson escorted his hieles to the first drawing room, where the groom and his best man, Mr. Frederick H. Fletcher of Cambridge, Md., awaited her. The drawing rooms were elaborately decorated in green vines and foliage plants and quantities of white chrysanthemums. In the dining room the flowers used were plnk, and the offect was very nretty. A string orthe effect was very pretty. A string or-chestra played the wedding marches and throughout the breakfast.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Johnson, was gowned in black mourning silk.

Mme. Quesada, wife of the United States commissioner for Cuba, has rejoined her husband here, after an extended visit to the summer resorts. This has led Senor Quesada to decline a number of invitations to visit various cities and speak concerning Cuban affairs. He will keep an appoint-ment in Cincinnati, however, where he will deliver an address tomorrow night on a number of Cuban topics, some of them relating to the political questions involved.

The bride's presents, which were shown

The bride's presents, which were shown to her friends at the residence of her mother on 31st street, were exceedingly pretty and numerous and were largely reinforced in numbers by the bulkier presents—furniture, etc.—which were sent to her future home at Cambridge, Md. Mrs. Graham Hume has returned to town and is located for the winter at No. 2103 O street. Her mother, Mrs. James P. Willett, is with her daughter.

Augustine, Fla., after a delightful stay in Washington as the guest of Miss Mary Agnes Browne of 483 F street southwest. Dr. and Mrs. John Woart Bayne have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mae Ashby, to Mr. David Buf-fington Tennant Wednesday evening, No-vember 22, at 8:30 o'clock, at St. Mark's Pro-Cathedral.

A quiet wedding will take place this evening at the Mt. Vernon M. E. Church parsonage, 1905 Massachusetts avenue northwest, the contracting parties being Miss Bland Grubbs of West Point, Va., and John T. Holland of Wilmington, Del. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party will leave for a trip north.

A quiet but exceptionally pretty home wedding took place at noon today, when Miss Lulu Waugh Clabaugh and Mr. William Wightman Richardson were married at the residence of the bride's parents, 1385 F street northeast. The ceremony was at the residence of the bride's parents, 1385 F street northeast. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Bagby of the Ninth Street Christian Church in the presence of a number of relatives and immediate friends of the contracting parties. Miss Cabaugh was attired in a gray traveling dress, ornamented with pearls. This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Bicharison left for the normal dress, ornamented with pearls. This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Richardson left for the north to be gone some days. Miss Clabaugh is a Maryland girl, a member of the family so well known throughout that state. Mr. Richardson is a Georgian by birth, his father, prior to his death, being one of the forement distance.

MATTINGLY. In remembrance of my dear brother, HARRY N. MATTINGLY, late of the United States navy, who was drowned one year ago today, November 8, 1898.

We think of our last farewell,
As sadly we saw thee depart;
8ødly! for how can words tell
The sorrows that swelled in our hearts?
They cannot; oh, language is faint
When love's devotion would speak;
Light pleasure or pain it may paint,
But with Nature's feeling it is weak!
Tearful and mute as we stood,
Thy last words are thrilling us yet,
And our hearts would have breathed if they could
And murmured, "We'll not you forget,"
But like some low and mournful spell,
We whispered, God be with you, farewell,
BY HIS SISTER MAMIR.
